

Human Resource Management Certificate Course

What is the HRM Certificate Course?

The Human Resource Management (HRM) Certificate Course is offered in cooperation with the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM) and Pace University. The program provides an overview of the key roles and functions of a senior Human Resource Generalist.

How is the HRM Certificate Course Structured?

The HRM Certificate Course is designed so that participants are prepared to seek certification in the field of human resource management. The program addresses topics that include: work-force planning, human resource development, compensation and benefits, labor relations and occupational health and safety. The course serves as a solid foundation for managing the HR challenges faced in today's demanding work environment.

Who is the course designed for?

The Human Resource Management Certificate Course is designed for mid and senior level HR managers who have a broad knowledge of human resource management and are considering becoming certified by the Society for Human Resource Management. This course prepares participants to sit for SHRM certification exams. All participants receive a SHRM certificate in HR upon class completion.

When is the course offered?

The 11 week HRM Certificate program is usually offered in the spring. Classes are held weekly during the early evening, for approximately 3 hours.
