

New York City Bicycle Master Plan

Rudolph W. Giuliani, Mayor
City of New York

Joseph B. Rose, Director
Department of City Planning

Christopher R. Lynn, Commissioner
Department of Transportation

May 1997

Contents

Preface	1
Executive Summary	2
The Benefits of Cycling	3
Cycling in New York City	4
Existing Bicycle Use	4
Potential Bicycle Use	6
The On-Street Network	8
Planning Process	8
Public Outreach	10
Implementation of On-Street Routes	10
Priority Routes: On-Street	11
The Bronx	12
Brooklyn	12
Manhattan	13
Queens	14
Staten Island	14
Bridges	15
East River Bridges	16
Harlem River Bridges	17
Hudson River / New York Bay Bridges	17
Arthur Kill / Kill Van Kull Bridges	17
Jamaica Bay Bridges	17
Additional Bridges	18
The Greenway System	19
The Bronx	22
Brooklyn	22
Manhattan	23
Queens	24
Staten Island	25

Access to Mass Transit	27
Subways.....	27
Commuter Rail	27
Ferries	27
Buses	28
Bicycle Parking at Intermodal Centers	28
 Comprehensive Bicycle Program	 30
Encouragement	30
Engineering	32
Enforcement	33
Education	34
 Design Guidelines	 36
On-Street Facilities	36
Multi - Use Paths	42
Bridge Structures	49
Maintenance and Protection of Traffic.....	50
Innovative Infrastructure.....	51
 Next Steps.....	 55
Appendix A: New York City Bicycle Master Plan Recommendations	57
Appendix B: Technical Advisory Committee	59
Appendix C: Stress Level Methodology for evaluating Bicycle Compatible Roadways	60
Appendix D: Implementation Methodology for On-street Bicycle Lanes	61
Appendix E: All-Agency Bicycle Policy	62
Appendix F: CITYRACKS Request Form	65
Appendix G: In-line Skating Legislation	66
Appendix H: Pedestrian Safety Legislation	68
Credits	70
 Acknowledgements	 73

