

2011-2012

Barrier Beautification

Request for Proposals

BACKGROUND

Since Spring 2010, the New York City Department of Transportation (the “NYCDOT”) partnered with the Mayor’s Community Affairs Unit (the “CAU”) and New York Cares (the “NY Cares”) to produce temporary designs on a number of barrier sites around the City. This past Spring 2011, four artists were selected to create final designs as well as translate and paint the design onto the designated sites, some of which include: Flushing Avenue between Williamsburg Street West and Washington Avenue in Brooklyn; 97th Street and Centerville Street in Queens; and West 155th Street and Edgecombe Avenue near Harlem River Drive in Manhattan. Approximately 3,500 linear feet of barrier was covered with bright colorful imagery on one Saturday in April with support from hundreds of volunteers.

This fall 2011, NYCDOT will partner with CAU, NY Cares, and other community-based organizations to paint selected barrier sites around the City. All barrier sites will be primed in advance by NYC Community Cleanup. Each selected artist shall be assigned a site within one of the five boroughs and will be responsible for translating the design and overseeing the painting of the design onto the barriers. NY Cares volunteers will be assigned to assist each artist at a site on one Saturday in early fall 2011 to paint the design.

PROJECT SCOPE

NYCDOT invites artists and/or designers to envision the surface of these ordinary jersey barriers as canvases for art. All interested artists are eligible to submit designs and supporting materials to this open call.

Selected artists shall accomplish the following tasks:

- complete one (1) final design;
- translate design (stenciling or hand drawing) onto barrier; and
- lead volunteers in the process of painting the design onto the barrier.

SITE SPECIFICATIONS

The overall length of each site will vary based on the barriers’ operational function. However, the dimensions of the jersey barriers are approximately twenty (20) feet in length by three (3) feet in height. NYCDOT shall assign Sites to selected Artists; therefore all Artists must be willing to adapt their conceptual design to the assigned location.

DESIGN CONSIDERATIONS

All submitted conceptual designs shall:

- consist of a simple, bold pattern that can be painted over one day by volunteers who may have no training in art (See Appendix A for examples of successful barrier projects);
- consider the uneven surface condition of the jersey barriers;
- consider the function of a jersey barrier as a protective divider within the public realm;
- be solely the result of the artistic effort of the artist; and
- be unique, original and not infringe upon any copyright or the rights of any person.

SELECTION CRITERIA

A jury shall review all submissions based on the following criteria:

- proposed design is aesthetically pleasing and appropriate for the public realm;
- past artwork demonstrates proficiency in design; and
- previous experience demonstrates ability to accomplish large-scale, team-based projects.

Proposals shall be ranked by a jury. NYCDOT will contact selected artists in early September 2011 to implement designs at specific jersey barrier sites. If additional barrier sites become available throughout the year, NYCDOT will reach out to ranked artists.

PROJECT FEES

Each selected Artist will be awarded an honorarium in the amount of $2,000 to complete a final design, translate the design onto the barrier and oversee the implementation process with volunteers. Additionally, each Artist will receive a $500 stipend to cover the cost of materials to translate the design onto the jersey barriers (i.e. special paper, stencils and markers). Materials and tools to paint the design, including paints and brushes, shall be provided by NYCDOT and NY Cares.
